

HERE'S YOUR GUN

Mike Delaney, 9/26/2019

My boy is turning 12 today, so now he becomes a man
We're going to the feed store to make a big purchase, that's the plan
When we get home we'll celebrate and have us some beers
He's been practicing his hunting for going on five years
All the squirrels and varmints better be on the run
'Cause he's gonna buy... his first gun

(Spoken: Yup, I'm going to slap him on the back and tell him...)

Chorus:

Here's your gun; Go out and have some fun
It's your legal right, to shoot someone up in a fight
One of them amendments lets you own all the armaments you can
You'll be the pride of our whole clan
So, let's get this done; Here's your gun

When my boy turns 18, he'll reach another phase
I'm sure with every shootout he'll be counting all the days
To quickly take down a charging moose, or, if necessary, a man
You need some real fire power when the shit hits the fan
He'll feel like he's died and gone to heaven
'Cause he'll get his first... AK-47

(Spoken: Yup, get ready to do some real damage...)

Chorus

Bridge:

The founding fathers in the second amendment
Wrote the people have the right
To keep and bear arms to keep us free
No one can infringe our "unalienable" might

At 21 it's time for a rocket launcher to shoot off some grenades
On his wedding day a Sherman Tank, I can get one in a gun show trade
Finally, when he retires, if he manages to survive
A final gift to sincerely thank him for keeping true patriotism alive
He'll protect his home and family without rebuke
'Cause he's gonna get... a tactical nuke

Chorus

G D7 G G

G C G C
My boy is turning 12 today, so now he becomes a man

G C G D7
We're going to the feed store to make a big purchase, that's the plan

G C G C
When we get home we'll celebrate and have us some beers

G D7
He's been practicing his hunting for going on five years

C G
All the squirrels and varmints better be on the run

D7 G
'Cause he's gonna buy his first gun

Pre-chorus:

D7
Yup, I'm going to slap him on the back and tell him...

Chorus:

C G
Here's your gun; Go out and have some fun

D7
It's your legal right, to shoot someone up in a fight

C D7 G D7
One of them amendments lets you own the biggest armaments you can

C D7
You'll be the pride of our whole clan

C D7 G
So, let's get this done; Here's your gun

G D7 G G

G C G C
When my boy turns 18, he'll reach another phase

G C G D7
I'm sure with every shootout he'll be counting all the days

G C G C
To quickly take down a charging moose, or, if necessary, a man

G D7
You need some real fire power when the shit hits the fan

C G
He'll feel like he's died and gone to heaven

D7 G
'Cause he'll get his first... AK-47
D7

(Spoken: Yup, get ready to do some real damage...)Bridge:

Chorus

Bridge:

D7 G
The founding fathers in the second amendment

D7 G
Wrote the people have the right

A7 D7
To keep and bear arms to keep us free

A7 D7
No one can infringe our "unalienable" might

G D7 G G

G C G C
At 21 it's time for a rocket launcher to shoot off some grenades

G C G D7
On his wedding day a Sherman Tank, I can get one in a gun show trade

G C G C
Finally, when he retires, if he manages to survive

G D7
A final gift to sincerely thank him for keeping true patriotism alive

C G
He'll protect his home and family without rebuke

D7 G..
'Cause he's gonna get... a tactical nuke

Chorus

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

58. Here's Your Gun. When every kid turns 18, he/she gets an AK-47 to celebrate our freedom. When they turn 21 they get a rocket launcher. When they get married, they get a tactical nuke and when they retire, they get a tank to say thanks. You can never be too safe. <https://www.cbsnews.com/news/in-many-u-s-states-18-is-old-enough-to-buy-a-semiautomatic/>